More information

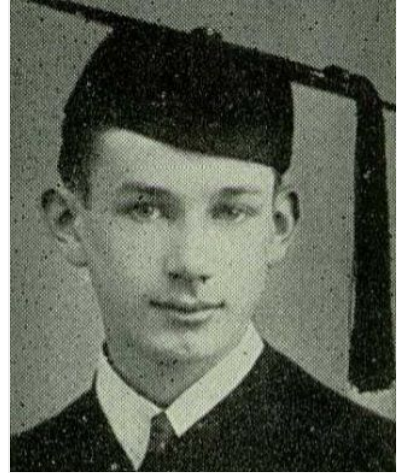

2nd Lt James W. Branagan graduated from Dickinson High School in 1939 and attended college. He was a financial clerk at the the brokerage firm of Charles Jones and Co.

He enlisted in Newark, New Jersey on 21 October 1942.

The crew was forced to leave the plane, due to mechanical failure on the return flight. The entire crew bailed out. Five crew members were taken prisoner, four evaded capture with the help of the Belgian resistance. Only 2nd Lt Branagan didn't survive. Civilians found his body with serious internal injuries and the rip cord of his parachute unpulled.

Note: According to the family, the right spelling of his name is Brangan.
